Health Professions Week – Discover The Best Fit For Your Future Career!

Health Professions Week (HPW) is an exciting FREE week-long event for high school and college students interested in learning more about careers in the health professions. Last year, more than 4,000 students participated in one or more of the many events during the week – this year we hope you will join us!

During Health Professions Week (HPW), November 6-10, 2017, you will have the opportunity to:

- ✔ Explore 20 diverse and rewarding health professions during a virtual fair and an online treasure hunt;
- ✔ Hear first-hand from a variety of health professionals about how they make a difference in their communities through their chosen profession;
- ✔ Engage with educators and health professionals near you at a local community or campus event.
